Evolving in Monkey Town

How a Girl Who Knew All the Answers Learned to Ask the Questions

By Rachel Held Evans

In Evolving in Monkey Town, Rachel Held Evans recounts her experiences growing up in Dayton, Tennessee, a town that epitomized Christian fundamentalism during the Scopes Monkey Trial of 1925. With fearless honesty, Evans describes how her faith survived her doubts and challenges readers to re-imagine Christianity in a postmodern context, where knowing all the answers isn't as important as asking the questions.

Rachel Held Evans is an award-winning writer from Dayton, Tennessee. Her articles have appeared locally in the Herald News and the Chattanooga Times Free Press, nationally in Grit, On Mission, Journey, and the Lookout, and online at BurnsideWritersCollective.com and TheOOZE.com. Rachel enjoys conversation, coffee, photography, travel, college football, poker, and spending time with her husband, Dan.
